Plumbers (NOC 7251)

Plumbers may also be called:

- maintenance plumber
- plumber apprentice
- plumbing mechanic

1. What Would I Do?

Plumbers install, maintain, and repair pipes and plumbing systems used for water distribution and wastewater disposal in buildings of all types.

Your duties include:

- reading blueprints to identify layout of plumbing system and estimate what materials are needed
- cut opening in walls and floors to accommodate pipe and pipe fittings
- measure, cut, bend and thread pipes using hand and power tools or machines
- join water supply and drainage pipes
- install, repair and maintain fixtures such as toilets and faucets
- test pipes for leaks using air and water pressure gauges

2. Am I Suited For This Job?

Plumbers should:

- be physically fit
- be comfortable with heights
- be able to solve math problems quickly and accurately
- work well with your hands
- have good hand-eye coordination

The working environment for plumbers can be cramped, dirty and noisy, depending on the job. You must be physically fit since you are required to carry heavy pipe and stand for much of the day.

3. What Are The Wages And Benefits?

In British Columbia, the median annual salary for plumbers is 54,226.

In BC's regions, you can expect to make:

Community/Area	Wages ($/hour)
	Low	Median	High
British Columbia	16.00	26.00	36.13
Kootenay Region	16.00	26.00	36.13
Thompson--Okanagan Region	20.00	26.00	32.65
Vancouver Island and Coast Region	16.00	26.00	36.13

4. What Is The Job Outlook In BC?

Over the last few years, there has been a rapid increase in construction activity in B.C. Residential construction and renovations in the Lower Mainland, Fraser Valley, southern Vancouver Island and Okanagan regions continue to be a source of plumbing work.

Commercial, institutional and industrial construction will also continue to be an important job supply for plumbers.

Employment Outlook

Technological improvements and more efficient methods are increasing the productivity of plumbers. Improved output of workers will affect the number of new jobs created.

'Careers in Construction Canada' predicts that for the 2019-2026 projection period, employment will be 'balanced', where new entrants and workers from outside the province must compete for available jobs.

Finding "Hidden Jobs"

Many job vacancies are not advertised. The resources below will help you with finding jobs in this "hidden" job market.

Using Directories to Create a List of Potential Employers

You can use company directories to produce lists of employers who employ plumbers in Vancouver or the Lower Mainland. Contact them directly to find out if they're hiring.

- British Columbia Regional Construction Associations – Member Directories

<https://www.bccassn.com/membership/>

- Greater Vancouver Home Builders' Association

GVHBA membership directory, available at Central Library, Vancouver Public Library, OR online at: <http://www.gvhba.org/> (click on 'Find a Builder' or 'Find a Renovator')

- Mechanical Contractors' Association of BC

Networking, Volunteering and Temporary Agencies

Many positions are filled by people who have been recommended by someone they know. Networking, working as a volunteer or registering with a temporary employment agency are good ways of helping you find jobs and meet people in your industry.

Networking and the Hidden Job Market:

When looking for work, be sure to talk to friends, relatives and neighbours. They may know someone who is hiring! Working as a volunteer, attending events, and joining clubs and associations are good ways to gain "Canadian experience." They are also good ways to meet people to learn about the local job market.

[Search Writing Resumes and Cover Letters]

8. Where Can This Job Lead?

Experienced plumbers may be promoted to a supervisory position.

With more experience you may also choose to work as an independent contractor and start your own plumbing companies.

With additional education some plumbers may become certified plumbing inspectors.
