2. Am I Suited For This Job?

Farm Workers should be:

- physically fit & have good physical stamina – work is physically demanding and you are on your feet most of the time
- dedicated
- hard-working
- detail-oriented
- quick learner

Farm Workers should:

- enjoy working outdoors
- enjoy working with machines
- work well as part of a team

Farm Workers work long hours and the workload often varies with the seasons. Work takes place both indoors and outdoors, so workers may be exposed to various weather conditions. Workers use machinery, tools and heavy farm equipment, such as tractors, which can pose the risk of injury. Farmers may be exposed to chemicals, such as pesticides, and dust and sand in the workplace.

5. How do I become a Farm Worker?

In B.C. there is no certification required to be a farm worker. Many farmers learn their skills on the job, or by growing up on a family farm. It is possible to enter farm work as a labourer without training. However, those who wish to go further with their careers will need a diploma or degree, in plant sciences, or related subjects such as horticulture, agriculture, farm management, or crop science. ### Finding "Hidden Jobs"

Many job vacancies are not advertised. The resources below will help you with finding jobs in this "hidden" job market.

Using Directories to Create a List of Potential Employers

You can use directories to produce lists of employers who are in this industry. Contact them directly to find out if they're hiring.

- BC Agriculture Council (BCAC) – List of Member Associations
<https://www.bcac.bc.ca/member-associations>
approximately 30 member organizations listed from blueberry producers to egg producers, to turkey growers. Click links for each association's website to see if individual producers are listed.
- BC Vegetable Marketing Commission
<http://www.bcveg.com/agency.asp>
BC producers of vegetables

- Reference Canada

<http://www.vpl.ca/digital-library/reference-canada>

Click on "Start Search" beside Canadian Businesses, then select the "Advanced Search" button. Select both "Keyword/SIC/NAICS" under Business Type and "City" under Geography. In the top search box enter "farm" and click SEARCH. Select the appropriate headings as "farming", "vegetable farms", "fruits and vegetables". Lower down, select the Province, choose the cities, and click the "View Results" button.

Networking, Volunteering and Temporary Agencies

Many positions are filled by people who have been recommended by someone they know. Networking, working as a volunteer or registering with a temporary employment agency are good ways of helping you find jobs and meet people in your industry.

Networking and the Hidden Job Market:

When looking for work, be sure to talk to friends, relatives and neighbours. They may know someone who is hiring! Working as a volunteer, attending events, and joining clubs and associations are good ways to gain "Canadian experience." They are also good ways to meet people to learn about the local job market.
