Industry Overview

Aside from a slight drop in demand in 2020, the BC Government estimates that an increasing number of teachers will be needed each year for the next 10 years, increasing to almost 1,900 new teachers in 2028.

Of these positions, 60% will be in Kindergarten and elementary classrooms, while 40% will be in secondary schools. Most of the positions will be for replacing teachers who retire. [Source: BC Teachers' Federation]

Working "on-call" and part-time has become a common starting point for new teaching graduates. The demand for teachers is greatest in northern BC.

Elementary Teachers:

In recent years, BC has experienced a number of elementary school closures due to declining student enrolments. There is growing demand for French immersion and Francophone program teachers; most of these teachers secure contracts within their first year of employment.

Secondary Teachers:

There is a shortage of trained teachers in some areas of the province (i.e., rural areas), but a surplus of trained teachers in others. Secondary teachers specializing in advanced math, physics, chemistry, French, and French immersion tend to be in higher demand in all areas of BC. There is expected to be an increasing need for teachers in such fields as business education, technology education, home economics, special needs, and ESL.

Qualifications

Teaching is a regulated profession in British Columbia

Licensing Requirements for Teachers

If you would like to teach in BC's kindergarten to grade 12 public education sector, you must have a certificate of qualification from the Ministry of Education & Training issued through the Teacher Regulation Branch. This certificate also enables you to work in all independent schools and First Nations schools in the province.

- The BC Ministry of Education & Training, Teacher Regulation Branch
<https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/education-training/k-12>

To qualify for a certificate, you must meet the following basic requirements:

- a BC grade 12 diploma or its equivalent
- a degree or its equivalent
- at least four years of post-secondary study
- completion of an acceptable teacher education program
- familiarity with the Canadian education system
- English proficiency, or, in the case of teaching French, French proficiency
- recent teaching experience
- a fit and moral character to work with children

Internationally Trained and Accredited Teachers

To teach in BC's kindergarten to grade 12 public education sector, you must apply to the Teacher Regulation Branch for a Ministry of Education & Training teaching certificate.

For more information see:

- The BC Ministry of Education, Teacher Regulation Branch
<https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/education-training/k-12/teach/teacher-certification>

- Documents Required for International Credentials

<https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/education-training/k-12/teach/teacher-certification/apply/submit-documents/country-specific-documents>

Familiarity with the Canadian education system If you have studied and/or taught in an education system that is significantly different from the education system in Canada, you may be asked to complete a familiarization program which takes about one year to complete. Find out if you need this training by completing your application for a teaching certificate. Your evaluation letter will tell you if you need this training.

Teacher Qualification Service (TQS)

If you are planning to work in the B.C. public school system, you also need to apply to the Teacher Qualification Service (TQS) for a category which helps determine your salary level.
